Is This Too Good to Last?

Garden flowers, such as snowdrops and crocus, are not the only blooms fooled by Victoria's mild winter weather—14 cherry trees along the boulevard in the 1300 block Manor Road have burst into blossom. Weatherman William Mackie, however, says it's too good to last. He expects cold weather which should put a stop to early flowering of spring blooms. — (Colonist photo by Bud Kinsman.)

Thorneycroft Quits Cabinet

PETER THORNEYCROFT

* * *

LONDON (Reuters) — Chancellor of the Exchequer Peter Thorneycroft resigned from the cabinet Monday night, claiming the government was blocking his efforts to halt inflation.

The 48-year-old treasury chief, one of the leaders of the "progressive section of the Conservative party, rocked the cabinet and the British political world with his surprise announcement.

Joining him in the resignation were two of his chief aides, Nigel Birch, economic secretary to the treasury, and Enoch Powell, the financial secretary.

Thorneycroft, considered one of the rising young spokesmen of the party, said in a letter to Prime Minister Macmillan that "resignation was the only course open" after the government approved higher expenditures for the coming fiscal year than it budgeted for last year.

He said he felt a limit on government expenditure was a "prerequisite to the stability of the pound, the stabilization of prices and the prestige and standing of our country in the world."

Macmillan announced that Derick Heathcoat Amory, formerly minister of agriculture, will succeed Thorneycroft.

Political sources said the crisis that led to Thorneycroft's resignation came to a head at weekend cabinet meetings which discussed financial estimates for the coming year.

'You Must Go' —Gaitskell

LONDON (Reuters)—Labor Party leader Hugh Gaitskell said yesterday the resignation of treasury chief Peter Thorneycroft showed that the government was "visibly crumbling."

"There is only one answer: Mr. Macmillan's government must go," he said.

There's a Family in There!

Bulldozer at Work

Family Held Out As Walls Toppled

BY ERITH M. SMITH

Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Pelletier and their three children are in another home in James Bay today—but they won't soon forget the past weekend.

They had been occupying a suite at 236 Gorge Road East—an old landmark of the district known as Harbor Lights. Toward the end of last year the building and property were bought to make room for a new auto court.

BURNED WOOD

Tenants were notified Nov. 30 that they must move by the end of December, and most did. The Pelletiers, however, stayed on.

For one thing, bulldozers came in Dec. 11 and cleared property adjacent to 236 Gorge. In the process a rubbish fire set to clear the ground set fire to their fuel-wood supply.

SPARK IN SHED

"They left no watchman," Mr. Pelletier told the Colonist yesterday, "and we had to watch it. One night a spark got into our fuel shed, too."

Last Saturday, after a final notice, wreckers began demolition of the big old house itself. The Pelletiers occupied a suite on the lower floor, rear, and when a reporter came calling yesterday their rooms, and those immediately above, were the only ones not torn open.

VERY NEAR

As they talked, there was a terrific rumbling and crashing above and very near. The reporter winched, and the Pelletiers laughed.

"You are afraid?" they asked. "We are almost used to it. But we will be out soon."

Fortunately, they were, for by late afternoon the entire house was just a pile of rubble. The Pelletiers, assured of compensation for their burned fuel, had departed.

Fulton Rejects Bill of Rights

* * *

M. J. COLDWELL

OTTAWA (BUP) — Justice Minister E. Davie Fulton last night rejected a motion calling for a Canadian bill of rights on the grounds it might infringe on provincial rights.

He said the "greatest care" should be taken to ensure that a bill of rights was introduced in such a form that it not only embodied the rights it was intended to, but did not infringe on rights "which others hold dear."

He was speaking at the end of the day's debate on a motion by CCF leader M. J. Coldwell to bring in a bill of rights as an amendment to the constitution. The bill was talked out without being brought to a vote.

Mr. Coldwell said, "The time has come for us to have in our constitution an expression of the civil rights and freedoms of Canadians generally."

Prime Minister Diefenbaker and Mr. Coldwell have been Parliament's most ardent supporters of a bill of rights.

Mr. Coldwell declared yesterday the bill was needed to combat such legislation as the Alberta Press Act and the Quebec Padlock Law.

He said he had the advice and assistance of many of Canada's top constitutional authorities in drawing up the resolution. He said it was entirely within the rights of Parliament.

$75 Monthly At Age 65

OTTAWA (CP) — CCF policy calling for a federally paid old age pension of $75 a month at the age of 65 was announced Monday night by the party's national council.

'Another Churchill—Like Me'

LLOYD HENDERSON

WINNIPEG (CP)—Mayor H. Lloyd Henderson of Portage La Prairie told a press conference here Monday that Lester B. Pearson will win the Liberal Party leadership nomination, "but he won't win the people."

The 50-year-old First Presbyterian minister, who has announced he will be a candidate for the nomination, said Mr. Pearson, former minister of external affairs and 1957 Nobel Peace Prize winner, "doesn't know the little guy. He is not one of the boys . . ."

But, he said, "I am."

Mayor Henderson said he will leave either by train on Saturday or by plane on Sunday for Ottawa to attend the three-day Liberal nomination convention beginning Tuesday. He would be "full of fight and full of determination to put new life into the Liberal Party and its platform."

He said he will be "extremely happy if I obtain 25 per cent of the first-count votes."

Mayor Henderson said he doesn't think Mr. Pearson can win a federal election for the Liberals because "he is not in touch with the common man—his field is among the bigwigs of international affairs."

He said his approach would be to the "common man—the man, who, in the final analysis, elects or ousts a government."

The world, he said, lacks a "crisis leader" such as Winston Churchill. He believed he could provide such leadership.

Moscow Story 'Fantastic'

Has Red Rocketeer Opened the Door On Space Travel?

Human Shot Up 186 Miles

NEW YORK (AP) — If Moscow reports are true, a daring Russian astronaut has kicked open some of the doors to human space travel.

Reliable sources in Moscow said Monday night that Russia has shot a man-carrying rocket 186 miles into space, and the man—or possibly woman—parachuted back to earth.

If true, it may be an even more dramatic scientific achievement than the launchings of Sputnik I and the dog-carrying Sputnik II last fall.

OFFICIAL SILENCE

But there was no official announcement whatever concerning this venture, reported to have taken place a day or two after New Year's.

(In London, United Press said, the immediate reaction was disbelief. It seemed highly unlikely that such a sensational announcement would be withheld by the Russians themselves and allowed to leak to the Western diplomatic corps.)

"JUST FANTASTIC"

Prof. A. C. B. Lovell, a noted British scientist, said: "It is just fantastic. I wonder if it is true."

In Washington, Dr. Fred Whipple, head of the Smithsonian Astrophysical Observatory, expressed no surprise but declined comment. Dr. Hubertus Strughold, known as the father of space medicine in the U.S., said that if true it was a "remarkable achievement." He said it "would not have made "sense" for the man inside to have left the rocket short of its full altitude.

Difficulties, including abrupt temperature changes, are many.

HEAVY AS STONE

One of these is the tremendous and sudden pull of gravity at rocket takeoff. His body must have felt as heavy as stone when the rocket accelerated.

He could have been riding in a sealed cabin or container near the nose of a huge rocket.

At the top of his flight, or soon after, this container could be separated from the rocket by explosive charges.

His total journey upward in the rocket and the beginning of his descent could last only a few minutes.

But it would take him into a fantastic electrical sea, the ionosphere, a layer of electrified atoms which reflect radio waves back to earth.

Radiation would pelt the rocket, and x-rays, at least, likely shoot through the man.

Schools Chairman

Elected first woman chairman of the Greater Victoria school board last night was Mrs. W. W. McGill, trustee for Saanich. She was vice-chairman last year and has been a board member for eight years. She succeeds W. H. Golby who retired from a two-year term after completing one year.

Others, Too

Police To Get Raise?

City council in effect made an offer of a 5.2 per cent wage increase last night to its nearly-300 "outside" workers and its nearly-90 policemen.

It instructed City Manager C. C. Wyatt to try to include the "Jackson formula" in all agreements with staff unions, and also instructed him not to settle for anything more than the Jackson formula.

When the City Hall Employees' Association—the "inside" staff—decided recently to be satisfied with its present agreement containing the Jackson formula, it was estimated the formula would bring the inside staff a 5.2 per cent pay increase this year.

The formula takes into consideration not only the change in the cost of living, but the general rise in the standard of living in Canada.

Martin Charges:

Tories Flout Parliament

RICHMOND, B.C. (CP) — Former Liberal health minister Paul Martin said Monday night the Progressive Conservative government has flaunted its campaign promises of a restoration of parliamentary rights.

"There is no government that has violated the rights of Parliament more often than the government of this great champion of Parliament, this same man, John Diefenbaker," Mr. Martin told about 100 persons at a Liberal nominating convention here.

Mr. Martin, candidate for Liberal party leadership, said the greatest contempt for Parliament was shown when Defence Minister Pearkes announced last August—before Parliament met—that the Canadian and United States air forces had been placed under single command of the U.S. for defence of North America.

Agreeing that unified command is desirable, he asked: "But what about Parliament in this matter?"

Mr. Martin said the Liberal government had received parliamentary approval before signing the North Atlantic Treaty.

Action in the single air command is a "serious violation of parliamentary rights," he said. "As yet Parliament has not been allowed to debate this policy."

Soused Trout Downed

BOLZANO, Italy (UP) — Villagers feasted on trout yesterday after a tank truck trailer broke loose on a hill and spilled its cargo of 2,642 gallons of fiery Italian liquor into a river.

Townsfolk picked up the fish, too drunk to care, by the hundreds from the Isarco River.

Tug Sinks, Vanishes; Two Saved

VANCOUVER (CP) — New efforts are to be made today to find a 46-foot tug which sank in the middle of Vancouver harbor Monday and vanished in 175 feet of water.

The Cuprite, owned by Associated Tug Boats Limited, capsized suddenly in a rip tide and the two men aboard spent two hours in the bitterly cold water before a lifeboat found them in the heavy fog.

Jack Nicholles, 64-year-old skipper, and John Peeley, 33, were discharged from hospital a few hours after they were rescued by a small boat lowered by the CPR's Princess of Vancouver.

The Cuprite was towing a log boom when she went down.

Three Hurt

Charges Sequel To Crash

Three people were injured, none seriously, in a traffic accident Saturday night which had repercussions in city police court Monday morning.

Police said a car driven south on Cook by Myron L. Barge, 23, of 628 Cornwall, and a car driven east on Bay by Joseph Watson, 819 Hillside, collided at the intersection at 10.35 p.m.

Mr. Barge, with a cut behind the ear, and his infant daughter Vicky-Lynn, four months, with a nosebleed, were treated at Royal Jubilee Hospital and released.

Also treated, for cuts, and released was Mrs. Gwen Henderson, 31, of 1951 Bourchier, a passenger in the Watson car.

Police said Watson walked away from the accident, apparently to telephone police. He did not return, and was picked up later.

CARELESS DRIVING

In court yesterday he was charged with careless driving, failing to remain at the scene of an accident, and having no driver's licence. He was remanded in custody till today.

Also injured in a weekend accident was Joseph Alfred Jacques, 30, of 2539 Shakespeare. He was treated at Jubilee for abrasions and bruises.

The injured man's car swerved across Esquimalt and struck a railway boxcar in the E & N yards.

HURT SUNDAY

No one was hurt Sunday morning when a city police patrol wagon skidded out of control while on an emergency run.

The vehicle hit two parked cars, causing heavy damage to the first, medium damage to the second and slight damage to the patrol wagon.

CAUGHT IN MACHINE

Police were on their way to help Monique Petrin, 9, of 668 Beacon, whose hand had been caught in a soft drink machine at Beacon Drive Inn.

Const. John Burdyny continued with the call after the crash, and released the girl's hand. She suffered severe brusing but no broken bones.

Jaycees Get Blast

Oak Bay Council All Against Study

Oak Bay council's first business of 1958 was to go on record unanimously last night as opposing amalgamation with surrounding Greater Victoria municipalities.

After approving that motion, by Coun. C. H. G. Mann, council unanimously passed one by a new councillor, Patrick Birley, opposing any official contribution to the cost of an investigation into amalgamation.

'DEGENERATED'

Action followed a slam by Reeve Fred Norris against the Victoria Junior Chamber of names for a petition calling for a royal commission investigation into amalgamation.

He said the Jaycees "appear to misrepresent the question" and the group has "degenerated into . . . an immature clique of publicity-seekers." He said he had "never been deluged by so many phone calls as I have received in protest to the Jaycee campaign.

Council set its future meetings at 7.30 p.m. the second and fourth Mondays of the month, the next meeting being next Monday evening.

Coun. Birley was appointed to continue this year as Oak Bay representative on the Capital Region Planning Board.

Coun. Mann, as finance committee chairman, Coun. Fred Hawes, works committee chairman, and Coun. Geoffrey Ellis, fire committee chairman, were instructed to arrange to hear new contract demands of inside and outside municipal workers and fire department employees this week.

Other standing committees and their chairmen, are: parks, Coun. Fred Robinson; streets and traffic, Coun. George Murdoch, and lands and buildings, Coun. Robinson.

Coun. Murdoch is acting reeve. Special committees and their members are:

Intermunicipal, Reeve Norris and Coun. Hawes; Greater Victoria Water Board, reeve and Coun. Murdoch (alternate); centennial committee, Couns. Mann and Murdoch; civil defence, Couns. Birley and Ellis; Juvenile Detention Home, Coun. Robinson; town planning committee, Coun. Robinson; Greater Victoria Celebrations Association, Coun. Ellis; library board, Coun. Mann; Union of B. C. Municipalities, Couns. Birley and Hawes.

High School Wrecked By Vandals

VANCOUVER (CP) — Damage estimated at $600 was caused during the weekend at John Oliver High School by intruders who wrecked fixtures, sprayed fire extinguishers and covered furniture and papers with ink.

A picture of a teacher was nailed to a wall in the principal's office, with a note pinned underneath. Officers refused to reveal the contents of the note.

More than $7,000 damage was done last month in a similar break-in at a North Vancouver high school. Two youths were later arrested.

Price Index Down

OTTAWA (CP) — The consumer price index at the start of December declined one-fifth of a point to 123.1 from 123.3 a month earlier.

Elderly Man First 1958 Traffic Victim

WILLIAM HOPKINS

An elderly View Royal pedestrian became Greater Victoria's first traffic fatality of 1958.

William Hopkins, 76, of 283 Helmcken, died Sunday evening at St. Joseph's Hospital about two hours after being struck by a truck at the intersection of Helmcken and the Old Island Highway.

Colwood RCMP, who are still investigating the accident, said driver of the light truck was Mrs. Joan Edith Ridley, 3260 Metchosin.

Apparently the truck was heading toward Victoria at the time of the collision. Mr. Hopkins is believed to have been on his way to mail a letter.

Formerly a repairman with the CNR, Mr. Hopkins came to Canada from Wales in 1913. Until coming to Victoria in 1946 his home was at Winnipeg.

Survivors include a son, Leonard, at New Westminster; a daughter, Mrs. Winnefreda MacIntosh, Victoria, and a sister in England.

Dr. John H. Moore, deputy coroner, will conduct an inquest, date for which has not yet been set.

Protection

...at your fingertips

Safety in the automobile is optional at no extra cost. No mechanical safety device can replace the protection of careful driving.

Last year, traffic accidents claimed the lives of more Canadians than ever before. Someone was injured every 8 minutes. A car was damaged every 48 seconds. Automobile insurance claims rose to more than $150,000,000.

One result of this is higher automobile insurance rates — because what is paid out in claims must be brought in by premiums. But even more important is the fact that you hold your life, and the lives of others, in your hands when you get behind the wheel of a car.

Safety pays dividends . . . saves lives, helps to lower your insurance costs. Be Careful.

Scurrah Address

New Firehall And Garbage Main Items

Construction of a new headquarters firehall and rebuilding of the garbage wharf were set as primary 1958 objectives by Mayor Percy Scurrah last night in his inaugural address.

The mayor also suggested that it was possible that in 1958 the question of a new city hall would have to be decided, that study should be given to building a new Rock Bay bridge, that the city give every co-operation in the establishment of more off-street parking, that the arena floor question be settled and that Fountain Circle be "watched and action taken as soon as it is found necessary."

Mayor Scurrah expressed hope that the new intermunicipal committee composed of the reeves, one council member from each municipality and himself would work more effectively than intermunicipal committees of the past.

He said the "question of amalgamation may become a very live issue during the year and with the co-operation of the other municipalities it is hoped that some solution to this problem may be found."

He called on council to keep a careful watch on business tax "to see what effect it has on business in order that an undue load may not be placed upon those who are unable to stand it."

The mayor said he thought it urgent that council should decide immediately the location of the new firehall and proceed as soon as possible with its construction.

Final Solution Found

"The number two objective in our program should in my opinion be the rebuilding of the garbage wharf," he said. "During the past year many solutions to the garbage problem have been proposed and finally after investigation have been discarded. However, it would now look as if a final solution has been found in compacting garbage."

He suggested proceeding with rebuilding of the garbage wharf as soon as money was available from the land-sales fund (after building the fire hall) and said the new wharf and compacting process would "solve the problem of the disposal of garbage certainly for the foreseeable future."

If the question of a new city hall became a live issue in 1958, Mayor Scurrah said, "I hope council will give serious consideration to including in that building offices for the school board. If this were done it would release to the city Craigdarroch Castle which could be turned into one of our most important tourist attractions.

"Consideration should also be given to making it a joint city hall with Saanich and provision should be made for a large increase in floor space over what we have now, in anticipation of the growth and population of this area.

"If the Cathedral Hill site should be selected by the people, serious consideration should be given to assistance in acquiring the extra property that would be necessary. . . . It is estimated that at least $300,000 to $400,000 would have to be spent in acquisition of property and this amount is altogether too much for the city alone to pay. If assistance should not be forthcoming . . . the council should give serious consideration to other sites where the cost would not be so great."

One such site, he suggested, was the Woodward Stores Ltd. property on Pandora, big enough for an ample city hall with parking accommodation and "considerable" open space.

The mayor said the Memorial Arena floor had cost the city too much for repairs in 1957. He said it was too important as a youth centre and as a place for the enjoyment of the citizens generally to be neglected "and I would suggest a definite decision be arrived at early in the year, as to whether we are going to install a new floor and if so, what type."

Crane Hits Cable, Worker Electrocuted

A Victoria man, father of six children, died instantly of electrocution and two other men were injured in a construction accident in Oak Bay yesterday morning.

Sigvard Gustafson, 51, of 1221 Johnson, was killed when a crane cable touched a 6,900-volt power cable.

John Martinskis, 43, of 339 Simcoe, was admitted to Royal Jubilee Hospital with burned toes on both feet, burned hand and thigh.

Kristian Naess, 3809 Carey, also suffered burns to hands, feet and body. He was sent home after treatment.

The men were employed by Arthur K. Smalley, 2706 Dorset, in building a three-storey apartment building at 1270 Beach, near the Oak Bay Boathouse.

A crane operated by Thomas W. Cox, 3590 Saanich Road, was being used to raise lumber to the second floor.

"The men used two slings on the crane cable to raise the lumber," said foreman E. H. Oliver, 2849 Inlet. "One sling had been attached, and Mr. Gustafson was about to slip the other into place and secure it.

ALL OVER

"The cable touched the power line above. It was all over as soon as it happened."

The crane operator escaped injury, and the two men who were burned still don't know just what happened.

Oak Bay police took the three men to hospital. Gustafson was pronounced dead on arrival.

Mr. Gustafson was born in Sweden and had lived in Canada since 1929. He came to Victoria about 15 years ago, and had been an active member of Swedish and Norwegian social clubs here. He was also prominent in the Bay Scout movement.

He belonged to St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, and was a popular member of the Carpenters Union, in which he devoted much time to charitable and service projects.

He is survived by his widow, Ruth, five boys ranging in age down from 14, and a daughter two months old.

City's Lack of Money May Delay Projects

In addition to the new firehall and rebuilt garbage wharf mentioned in his inaugural address, Mayor Percy Scurrah told city council last night, 32 other public works projects had been suggested for consideration in 1958.

The mayor said the city engineer considered all of them desirable and some essential, but, he said, "we know costs are going to increase over 1957, and I think we should take a long, hard look before making decisions. They are desirable, but if we haven't the mony they will have to wait until we can afford them."

* * *

The list of work suggested by the city engineer includes such projects as road improvement in a number of locations, installation of more traffic signals, repairs to seawalls and construction of boat-launching ramps, construction of a Causeway promenade, acquisition of lands for a new approach to Johnson Street Bridge, institution of a downtown parking project, construction of a new westerly approach to Point Ellice Bridge, and sewer improvements.

* * *

Council received from City Comptroller Dennis Young a $7,802,375 provisional budget for 1958, as required by the new Municipal Act.

This figure is about $400,000 higher than the final budget total for 1957, but the provisional budget will be subject to change in the Spring.

Ald. Hugh Ramsay asked what difference the provisional budget, as it stood, would make in the mill-rate, but Mr. Young said so many factors were unknown that any answer he could give would be a guess and misleading.

* * *

The mayor also said he expected to have a meeting in the next week in connection with the Swartz Bay-Tsawwassen ferry service between Sidney and the mainland, and "I have every hope we will have some definite advances made."

Council agreed to make an immediate contribution of 60 cents per capita to the Centennial committee for permanent projects after Ald. Edgelow said the provincial government would not pay its matching grant until the money was in the bank.

B.C.'s 'Centennial City'

PRESENTATION this week of the first city charter of the new year to Dawson Creek, almost at British Columbia's border with Alberta on the east side of the Rockies opposite Pine Pass, is a happy and symbolical event. For years Dawson Creek pioneered as a community of growing importance while exploration and discovery brought into ever widening use new territory which long had been inaccessible. The City of Dawson Creek receives its official provincial charter at the culmination of a long record of enterprise and faith in itself. It thus becomes the "centennial city" of the province, with the same place on the map but new dignity and importance.

Victoria's links with the City of Dawson Creek go back a long way. There probably has not been a session of the provincial legislature held for years at which northern members in the House were not on their feet to present a petition, advance a claim or urge attention in connection with the lively and progressive views of British Columbia held in the northeastern town. Often it had been the Pine Pass or Peace Pass issue. At times it was the protest that Dawson Creek and the northeast had little or no connection with the rest of this province. Time has settled both arguments, and British Columbia's new city is today a bustling one.

If the latter-day improvements in transportation, industrial development and potential mean anything—and surely they mean much—the City of Dawson Creek should never have cause to look back over its shoulder. As the first new British Columbia city of the year it will have as much to contribute to the life and progress of the province as any community ever to see the light of day in it. To Mayor Roger Forsyth and the new aldermanic board sworn into office this week will go right hearty congratulations on a civic status that has been sturdily won.

"I was just going to ask you the same thing"

Unlighted Bicycles

VICTORIA city police recently issued a warning of intention to deal severely with cyclists found after dark riding machines not equipped as required by law. It is to be hoped that the police meant what they said, and also that the forces of the other municipalities are taking similar action, for the regulations with respect to lights and reflectors on bicycles are being widely disregarded.

The worst offenders, of course, are children and youths. In many instances, however, it might be more accurate to state that the worst offenders are parents who allow their children to be abroad after dark without taking the trouble to see that their bicycles not only are properly equipped but also that the equipment is in working order. From the number of bicycles ridden by juveniles to be seen on the streets at night without regulation lights it can only be assumed that many parents are far too casual towards an exceedingly dangerous practice. A flashlight held in the hand, it should be mentioned, is not a proper light.

At this time of year the risk is as serious at dusk as it is after full darkness falls; perhaps even more so, for traffic then is at its heaviest and the half-light adds to the difficulties of car drivers. Young people who have never driven cars themselves may not be able to understand the danger they run in riding among vehicular traffic without lights. Often, too, the offence is compounded and the hazard multiplied by disregard of other rules of the road. Every motorist who drives after daylight has faded is painfully familiar with the nerve-wracking experience of seeing a cyclist suddenly appear from nowhere in the beam of his headlights and vanish again into the darkness.

If there is any respect in which the police forces of Greater Victoria are inclined to be lax it is in this matter of unlighted bicycles. The decision by the city police to deal sternly with the practice was prompted by a request from the Victoria Labor Council. That request should not have been necessary; and police vigilance should not be a spasmodic activity to be dropped again in a week or so. Lenience or the blind eye towards young cyclists who either don't know or don't care about what is required of them is misplaced kindness and grossly unfair to the motorists.

Put in Perspective

THE tourist trade in Victoria is not all that sometimes it has been cracked up to be. Often the impression has been bruited around that this area would fold up completely if visitors stopped coming, and efforts made to have citizens change their ways and habits merely to suit the convenience of tourists who allegedly kept this community in being. The report of the Capital Region Planning Board on the subject is illuminating.

Far from being a main buttress of the local economy tourism is only a comparatively minor factor. Victoria still belongs to the people who live here and to the industry and businesses which are the real source of its prosperity. Actually this has always been obvious enough but the fanfare of tourism has tended to obscure the reality. The planning board's survey shows that the contribution made by tourists to the economy of the capital region is about 5 per cent of the whole. This is a far cry from being a dominant monetary factor.

Yet the tourist trade is not to be sneezed at nevertheless. It brings some $8,000,000 to local stores and businesses of one kind and another, and that is a sizable amount of revenue. It means employment for some and an aid to the well-being of others. It is certainly enough to warrant continued efforts to attract as many visitors as possible. Some 400,000 persons came here from outside during the past summer months, the largest single number of them by car as might be expected. It is interesting to note that while most of the car visitors came via Nanaimo they spent most of their total time in the Victoria area. The attraction of Victoria is thus well sustained.

The planning board's survey puts the tourist picture in perspective, and tourism promoters are thus able to plan for future years within the framework of its conclusions. These suggest that the emphasis of publicity might be spread more strongly in some states across the line and provinces beyond B.C. Most of the visitors at present come from: B.C., Washington, Oregon and California. A worthwhile goal to aim at would be to double the 5 per cent which visitors contribute to the local economy.

Interpreting the News:

Political Issues Involved

By JOSEPH MacSWEEN

Canadian Press Staff Writer

BRITAIN'S two Mediterranean island colonies are facing the mother country with perplexing and contradictory problems.

Sir Hugh Foot, governor of rebellion-torn Cyprus, and Maj.-Gen. Sir Robert Laycock, governor of Malta, are visiting London to report and receive instructions.

The holiday season passed quietly in Cyprus and there are signs that Sir Hugh, who has a reputation for cooling passions and leading people toward self-government, is having success there.

The quarrel in Cyprus, where a state of emergency has been in force for three years, has wide ramifications since it is seriously damaging relations among three NATO members, Britain, Greece and Turkey.

* * *

While Greek Cypriots, who make up the greater part of the population, are forthright in their demands for an end to British rule, the problem of the Maltese is different.

Although Prime Minister Mintoff now is threatening that Malta will secede from the Commonwealth, only a few month ago he was calling for a closer relationship—integration along the lines of Northern Ireland—with the United Kingdom.

It appears that the 41-year-old labor premier is using this device to bring pressure on the British government. Under reduced British defence spending, Mintoff fears that the Royal Navy dockyards in Malta, employing 14,000 men, will face wholesale layoffs and eventual closing.

Malta also is fleet headquarters for NATO forces in the Mediterranean.

* * *

It isn't clear just how Mintoff and his supporters figure that secession would help matters. They are demanding that Britain provide alternative employment and they are backed by a unanimous vote of the Maltese parliament.

The dockyard workers are organized under the general workers' union, on which Mintoff leans for support and it is obvious that the fiery leader will go to great lengths to hold that support.

* * *

The doughty Maltese wrote a proud story of heroism under fire in the Second World War, when the island was awarded the George Cross for scorning surrender despite almost continual attack by German and Italian air forces.

Malta entered the British Empire on its own accord in 1814 after the Royal Navy assisted the Maltese in ousting Napoleon's soldiers.

". . . of shoes—and ships—and sealing wax—of cabbages and kings."

YOU would read what Field Marshal Montgomery said the other day: that a certain two army colonels should have their heads banged together.

Charity would remind us that the illustrious Monty is now 70 years of age and probably grown testy; except that he has always been a testy individual.

He was extremely ungenerous to fellow officers, however.

The two regimental colonels in question—of the Highland Light Infantry and the Royal Scots Fusiliers — are retired major-generals holding these honorary appointments. It was rank discourtesy to castigate them publicly in this fashion.

Especially since it appears that Montgomery doesn't know what he is talking about.

* * *

As nearly all the world is now aware, I imagine, an unfeeling British war office ordered the amalgamation of the HLI and the RSF, one a Highland and the other a Lowland regiment. Any army veteran appreciates what such a fusion means to ancient regiments prizing their separate colorful traditions.

Montgomery said that the serving officers of both regiments understood that a new page of military history was being turned. Apparently he is unaware that it was only after sampling such opinion that the two regimental colonels endeavored to solve the intricate problems of amalgamation.

* * *

Against all expectation, in view of the clash of Highland and Lowland custom, they succeeded; their agreement, however, was that the new regiment would wear the kilt.

The war office rejected the proposal and demanded the colonels' resignations, drawing a rebuke from the London Times which said that the army council's obstinacy "almost passes belief."

Montgomery also said, during his ill-considered speech, that he doesn't worry whether he wears the kilt or the trews. No one is worrying about what he wears—and he has broken many a military dress rule—but he ought to realize what the kilt means to a Highland regiment.

* * *

He stood beside Sir Winston Churchill as the latter watched the entry of the 8th Army into Tripoli, headed by the pipers of the 51st Highland Division. "Spick and span they looked after all their marching and fighting," wrote Churchill.

Did Montgomery dissent? He had ample reason not to; those Highlanders helped mightily to win his battles for him.

His memory is short, also. Immediately after the war he declared: "I call morale the greatest single factor in war."

Now he would hang two colonels' heads together because they would retain the greatest single factor of morale in a Highland regiment—its kilt. The percipience of Field Marshal the Viscount Montgomery of Alamein must have vanished with his years.

I asked Alderman "Cappy" Proudfoot, an old RSF man, what he thought about the matter and he replied that perhaps it was Montgomery who should have his head hanged. As an old HLI man I am inclined to agree.

Reports from Ottawa

EYEBROWS have been lifted at Prime Minister Diefenbaker's use of a government plane to take him to the West Indies for a week's holiday in the sun.

Eyebrows can now resume normal position. It was all on the up-and-up.

As closely as I can figure it, the treasury will receive at least $1,662.50 for the use of a Department of Transport Viscount aircraft which took the PM, Mrs. Diefenbaker and Miss Bunny Pound, secretary, from Prince Albert to Nassau. The Department of Transport will present the bill to Alistair Grosart, national director of the Conservative Party, who chartered the plane for the PM's use.

The arrangement was a straight aircraft charter at cost. It costs $175 an hour to operate this four-engined turboprop plane. It took 9½ hours to fly from Prince Albert to Nassau, so the charge will be at least $1,662.50. Whether it will be more, to cover the plane's flight empty from Ottawa to Prince Albert and back to Ottawa from Nassau, had not been determined at this writing.

* * *

If there is no charge for the hours the plane flew light, it will be on the ground that a charter enables the government to save on the cost of flying which would have to be done anyway to keep the crew in practice.

Even two or three weeks' layoff from flying a Viscount is apt to make pilots rusty. That can't be permitted, for this plane is maintained by the government to carry cabinet ministers and top officials on government business, and to transport visiting VIPs.

The former Liberal administration inaugurated the practice of making government planes available, service exigencies permitting, for private use by politicians.

In the 1953 election campaign the Liberals used seven government planes and paid the treasury $8,304.28.

Prime Minister St. Laurent used a government plane to take a party to Newfoundland, and to take him to Florida for a holiday last Easter. In the June election he used a government plane for a trip through Quebec and the Maritimes to Newfoundland. Diefenbaker used non-government planes.

* * *

For appearances' sake, it probably would have been wiser politically for the Diefenbakers to have flown to Nassau by Trans-Canada Airlines. That was their means of returning from Nassau.

However, the PM was exhausted after a strenuous session of Parliament. Time at his disposal was short, with Parliament resuming sitting in a week's time. Yet he needed the holiday in the sun, to shake a cold which had dogged him since Dec. 6.

When he boarded the plane at Prince Albert early on the morning of Dec. 28 he looked tired and drawn, and he slept all the way to Nassau.

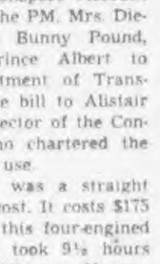
The health of the prime minister is, of course, a matter of great concern to the nation. Mackenzie King's illness at the 1947 Commonwealth Prime Ministers' Conference in London is a case in point. So is the last illness of Sir John A. Macdonald which all but jammed the wheels of government some 65 years ago.

This consideration alone is enough reason for eyebrows to drop. And it might suggest that it's time for Canada to provide its prime minister with his own personal plane—as the U.S. does not only for President Eisenhower but also for many of its diplomats abroad, including the American ambassador to Canada.

The Packsack

By GREGORY CLARK

SAYS a doctor friend of mine: "If you have bags under your eyes, smile and they vanish. The muscle structure of the face is such that when you go through the muscular process of smiling your whole face lights up. And the bags disappear. Pleasant wrinkles gather around your eyes, pulling the bags aside."



He led me over to his office mirror, and went through the pantomime. He drew a long face. He let his mouth sag in professional gravity. There was no doubt about it. He had bags under his eyes. No wonder, of course. Because he had been up half the night attending sick babies and middle-aged women who had the 2 a.m. frets, to wake him by telephone from his troubled sleep.

Then he burst into a smile. Everything turned up. His lips, his cheeks. Around his eyes sprang forth the wrinkles of an amiable man. He raised his eyebrows, as most of us do when smiling, and deep furrows appeared on his forehead, further lifting his face.

The bags utterly vanished.

"Bags," he said, "are most conspicuous on melancholy faces. Now, stand here and you try it."

So I stood in front of the mirror and tried it.

"That'll be five dollars," he said.

I give it to you free.

Leading the World

(From The Winnipeg Free Press)

THE first step has been taken to harness for peaceful uses the awesome power of the hydrogen bomb. A spokesman for Britain's atomic energy authority said that good results have been achieved in initial efforts to control the fusion of hydrogen—the force in the H-bomb.

It is not surprising that Britain should be the pioneer in this field. British scientists have led the world in efforts to harness the power of the atom bomb for industrial uses. Their success is attested to by the atomic energy power plant at Calder Hall in Cumberland and in Britain's plans for a network of similar atomic energy stations to be built throughout the British Isles.

Much work remains to be done before the immensely greater power of the H-bomb can be harnessed as the power of the A-bomb has. But the initial results are encouraging. And Britain's success in this field should give further proof to the United States that the U.S. has much to gain from a free interchange of atomic ideas and information between the western powers.

On the Record

Arms Instead Of Brains

By DOROTHY THOMPSON

WHAT are the arguments being made for the renewed drive for greatly stepped-up arming?

Russia, it is argued, has 4,000,000 well-equipped troops backed by an industrial machine that has grown at twice the rate of the American in the last 25 years. Russia already has three-quarters as many scientists and technologists as we. Russia is engaged in successful economic penetration in the under-developed countries, is exploiting the new nationalism of former colonial countries, and has entered the Middle East. Therefore we need vastly increased military power.

Yet it would seem that regardless of military power, Russia is doing so well politically that there is no reason for her to start a war. And we are doing badly enough politically to suggest a reconsideration of policy.

* * *

Obviously—at least to my perhaps too simple reasoning—if we wish Russia had fewer troops and weapons it would be wise to make a policy that does not require her, from the viewpoint of her own security, to have them. If our industrial capacity—still enormously greater than the Russian—does not show the same rate of growth, it is because America is already almost entirely industrialized, including agriculture, and our problem is one of surpluses. Russia is still far behind us in science and technology, taking into account all fields. If she has concentrated on military technology it is hardly surprising considering the "perimeter defence" carried out on all her frontiers.

And why did anybody ever think that Russia or any other great industrial power could be kept out of the Middle East? For decades the British and French considered it an exclusive preserve and regarded American penetration into its oil-rich areas with no less hostility than we now regard the Russian.

Russia, as her industry develops, will be seeking raw materials and markets in the under-developed countries. If we are to compete we must do so by the excellence of our products in relation to cost, the dependability of deliveries, and the favorableness of our financial arrangements with those with whom we want to do business. The days of imperialist monopolies are over. The Russian state capitalists are smart merchants and shrewd traders, and if Russian diplomacy and economic penetration are more successful than ours, the blame lies here, not in Moscow.

* * *

Russia, it is said, is "buying" allies, furnishing them with arms and sending them military and technological missions. But what in the world have we been doing? American aid missions and agencies for intelligence and propaganda are everywhere, as every traveller knows, far more visible and considerably less discreet than the Russian.

The greatest danger to America is that we shall eventually surrender our free society in a hysteria over military dangers that are not yet palpable, despite attempts to paint them so and policies that positively invite them. Our arms, it would appear, are stronger than our brains.

Now the drums are being beaten to spend $22,000,000,000 for shelters to protect the people in a thermonuclear war. The effect of this will be to strengthen the "hit 'em first" movement, which is not yet off the ground, further to strain the economy, and take us another step on the road to George Orwell's horrid vision of 1985. Our own view is that anyone who wants, personally, to survive a thermonuclear war—assuming there are survivors—is singularly lacking in imagination. No freedom of any kind would survive it.

Total war and its aftermath would be total communism by whatever name it might be called.

Fun, Fact and Fiction

In a country home without a maid and seldom a guest, the young son was very anxious to help his mother when his father appeared with two dinner guests from the office.

When the dinner was nearly over, the young boy went to the kitchen, and proudly carried in the first piece of apple pie, giving it to his father who passed it to a guest.

The boy came in with a second piece of pie and gave it to his father who again gave it to a guest.

That was too much for the youngster who piped up:

"It's no use Dad. The pieces are all the same size."

Letters to the Editor

Hillary's Dash

I have observed a tendency to suggest that Sir Edward Hillary has not quite "played the game" by advancing to the South Pole. The object of this letter is to suggest that it would be most wise to suspend judgment until more facts are available. As Tom Taylor points out Hillary's journey is complementary to that of Fuchs and designed to assist the latter to make the transcontinental journey by laying depots of food and oil and by returning with him on the last stage of his (Fuchs') journey.

If Hillary has laid the depots as intended, is it suggested that he should have waited short of the Pole until Fuchs came along—possibly too late to complete the journey safely? It must be remembered that the low heat on the Antarctic plateau results in a very sharp drop in temperature during the months of January, February and March and it seems to me that Fuchs' party must increase their speed if they are to complete their journey before winter sets in. While low temperatures are not so serious with mechanical transport as when man hauling, the cold will certainly not improve working conditions.

One should, I think, assume that the two parties are in touch by radio and that Hillary's actions are the result of joint decisions.

Parochial Attitude

Mr. Denis H. Besley's letter needs an answer.

I see Mr. Besley lives in Gordon Head and does not pay property taxes in the city of Victoria. He makes no consideration for the fact that the 150 foot strip asked for at the west end of the Central Junior High School grounds is not and never will be needed for school purposes.

It is about time our school trustees climbed down out of their ivory towers, came to earth, and took a broader commonsense view of the problem. Victoria city has treated the school board very fairly right along and has given them land where they needed it, while in Oak Bay the board had to pay $5,000 recently for one piece of land purchased from that municipality. Victoria paid its share of that.

A good main fire hall property placed should be a Greater Victoria objective and not a parochial one.

If Victoria had not sold its reverted lands it would not have had the money to build the Point Ellice bridge which is for the use of this whole area. Did we notice any of the other municipalities offering to help out in its cost, or in fact in any of the many things Victoria provides for the good of this whole area?

In Defence of Dogs

This will be the first letter I have ever written to the daily papers; but the remarks in The Daily Colonist this morning is just too much.

I wonder if the "man" who does not wish to be classed with dogs would refuse to have one rescue one of his children should they fall into trouble, or be wakened by their barking should the house catch fire.

They are God's creatures; why refuse to feed them? Oh, well, some of our dogs are particular also.

Needless Bickering

The current dispatch of your London correspondent indicates a certain degree of tension between the U.S.A. and its principal allies. It is time both sides stopped behaving like children, and considered a few plain facts.

There can be little doubt that leadership of the world will go to that power or group of powers which first uses hydrogen fusion to feed the hungry peoples of Asia. If we of the West waste time in needless bickering, Russia will step in and seize the initiative.

Russia's Garrison In Hungary Cut

MOSCOW (AP) — Russia announced Monday night it is withdrawing and disbanding 58,000 troops in Hungary and East Germany as part of a reduction of 300,000 men in the Soviet armed forces.

More than 41,000 will be pulled out of East Germany, the announcement said, and 17,000 from Hungary, where they have been on guard since the revolt 14 months ago.

Deputy Foreign Minister Kuznetsov told a press conference the cuts start immediately and will be completed this year.

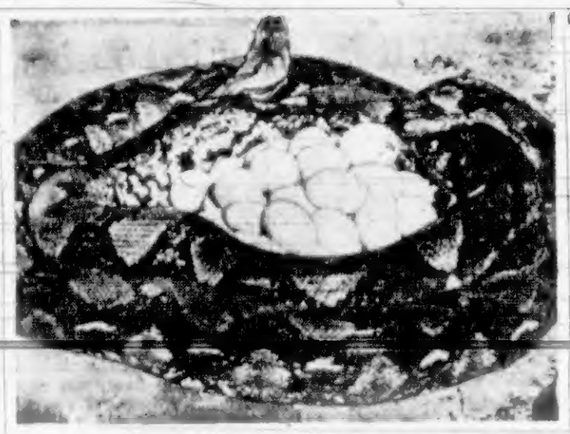
As in the past when the Soviet Union has announced a reduction in its defensive manpower, Kuznetsov challenged NATO powers to follow the Russian example.

He also told reporters the Soviet Union is considering "positively" the idea advanced by Prime Minister Macmillan of Britain Saturday for a non-aggression pact between East and West.

"We would hope it is a serious proposal," he said.

This was the third such cut announced here in less than three years—640,000 men in mid-1955 and 1,200,000 in May, 1956.

Western military sources have said they never had any actual evidence—beyond the Kremlin's words—that the cuts were carried out.



Pete Fools Everyone

Pete the Python has a penchant for publicity that many a Hollywood movie star could envy. Pete first became famous in 1954, when he broke out of Fort Worth pet zoo and had the run of the Texas city for 15 days. Latest accomplishment was to prove indisputably that he is a she by producing 50 giant eggs.

'Let Chips Fall . . .'

Food Price Probe Opens With Threat

OTTAWA (CP)—A new royal commission on price spreads for food products is planning public hearings extending over nearly a year to discover why Canadian food prices behave as they do.

Dr. Andrew Stewart of Edmonton, chairman of the seven-member commission, said Monday its inquiry will cover any aspect of market behavior between food producers and consumers.

At a press conference following the commission's first meeting, Dr. Stewart was asked whether he hopes the investigation will result in lower prices to consumers or higher prices for producers.

"We're going in to look at this thing and the chips will fall where they may," he replied.

Liquor and beer are not foods, in the opinion of the new royal commission and Dr. Stewart said the commission has ruled those products out of its inquiry. He said the same thing goes for tobacco products.

Dr. Stewart, 53-year-old Edinburgh-born president of the University of Alberta, said the commission wants to hear from representatives of farmers, fishermen, consumers, and all the in-between groups, including processors, distributors, transporters and labor.

It would get down to details like loss leaders and premium stamps, freight rates, advertising costs, tariffs on imported food and profit margins.

Four or Five a Year Follow Diets to Death

VANCOUVER (CP) — An average of four or five persons die each year in Vancouver from "legally prescribed starvation diets," Coroner Glen McDonald said today.

Diet was the direct cause of some of the deaths and a major factor in others.

"I know of two persons in Chinatown who are so weak from prescribed diets they are unable to help themselves," he said in an interview.

SENT TO VICTORIA

Mr. McDonald said autopsy reports of all deaths in which malnutrition is a factor are sent to the attorney-general's office.

In Victoria, Attorney-General Bonner said he was not aware of the number of deaths each year from malnutrition, nor would he comment on them until he had received a report from Coroner Dr. Harold Dyer of North Vancouver.

Dr. Dyer found that Mrs. Margaret Mary Howard, 30, of North Vancouver, died Christmas Day of what he termed "self-inflicted malnutrition."

UNDER TREATMENT

Prior to her death she had been treated by a naturopath and a licensed medical practitioner who specializes in nutrition and preventive medicine.

Mr. McDonald, a lawyer, said he never made any special recommendations on his autopsy reports, because the naturopaths were not operating outside the field of their own practice.

"I can't say dieting is wrong. Even orthodox doctors prescribe it. It is a question of degree."

Dr. Gordon Ferguson, executive secretary of the B.C. Medical Association, said both naturopaths and physicians work with the same tools but "it is a question of knowing how to use them."

"The question of deaths from malnutrition is entirely up to the cabinet because the government allows naturopaths to practice here."

He said the medical association would not express any comment unless asked to do so by the health minister.

However, Dr. Lynn Gunn, registrar of the B.C. College of Physicians and Surgeons, has suggested the government inquire into the activities of naturopaths.

Italians' Fountain

Design Wins Favor

NANAIMO—The Italian community of Nanaimo has approved a design for an ornamental fountain, a model of which was viewed by scores of residents in the city hall on Sunday.

The fountain, which will be representative of British Columbia in depicting the ocean, a salmon run, and giant salmon leaping the falls, carved from three-ton blocks of granite, is to be constructed by volunteer labor. It is the Centennial project of the Italians and will be placed on the Terminal Avenue-Nicol Street intersection.

Co-designers are Gina Sedola and David Denbigh of Nanaimo, and George Norris and Jack Akroyd of Vancouver.

Court Lauds Story

NANAIMO — A man who had been drinking so heavily he didn't know where he had obtained a case of beer was complimented in police court yesterday when he told the story to the magistrate.

Robert Peters, an Indian, pleaded guilty to possession of beer off the reserve.

"Yours is a more reasonable excuse than others we generally get in here," the magistrate told Peters. "They usually say that they got the beer from a man whose name they cannot remember."

Peters was fined $15.

Ferries To Get Overhaul

The Vancouver-Nanaimo CPR ferry, Princess Elaine, will be withdrawn from service Monday for her annual overhaul.

The Princess Margaret will be brought out of semi-retirement to continue the regular service until the return of Princess Elaine early in February.

The Princess of Alberni will be taken off her run to ports on the west coast of Vancouver Island after the Jan. 7 sailing, also for annual overhaul. Service will be resumed Jan. 21.

ASIAN TYPE

The gaur, a sort of bison found in Burma and India, is a black animal about six feet in height.

'It Won't Happen Again'

NANAIMO — The Nanaimo man who picked up a .22-calibre rifle and shot two glasses off a shelf three feet above his child's head was granted suspended sentence in police court yesterday.

"It won't ever happen again," Raymond Snell told the court.

"It had better not," replied Magistrate Lionel Beevor-Potts, remarking that the offence could carry a five-year prison term. Snell was ordered to post a $250 good behavior bond.

First Twins Of 1958 At Nanaimo

NANAIMO—This city hopes to have an undisputed claim for the first Centennial twins.

The babies, a boy and a girl, were born to Mrs. Roderick MacDonald of Esplanade Saturday night.

They will be called David Roderick and Davina Catherine. Mrs. and Mrs. MacDonald already have two other children, a boy and a girl.

Pearson B.C.-Bound

Former external affairs minister Lester B. Pearson will be guest speaker at the one-day convention of the B.C. Liberal party in Vancouver Jan. 25.

Second Time in Month

Campbell River Votes Tomorrow

CAMPBELL RIVER — Residents of Campbell River will go to the polls tomorrow for the second time in a month to elect [illegible] of the village commission.

The election was forced by the resignation of R. H. Jamieson, who topped the poll in December but gave up the seat over a technicality.

Contesting the seat are Mr. Jamieson and A. P. Harasimo.

The retiring village commissioners, chairman Barnard Box, Walter Fogg, Stanley Jesmon, Carl O. Thulin and Kenneth McDonald—met yesterday to clear up outstanding business for incoming officials.

Mr. Thulin formally gave his waterfront property to the village for use as a park to be dedicated to the pioneers of the village.

A letter was received from federal Public Works Minister Howard Green saying he was considerating a requested extension to the government breakwater and additional floats for seiners.

There's no time like snow-time to buy your new

Plymouth

Read the money-saving reasons. See if it doesn't make plenty of sense to you, to start the new year the new Plymouth way!

There's no doubt that a brand-new car is better than an older one for this time of year, is there?

With a new motor, new brakes, tires, battery, heater, defrosters and electrical system, you and your family are far safer. Far less likely to have trouble. And you're more comfortable, too, in the snug interior of a new car. What's more, you get the pleasure of owning a brand-new model for the whole year; not just part of it!

When you think of all these advantages, Plymouth stands out as an especially good winter-time buy.

You're cozy as a bug inside, thanks to Plymouth's quality-fitted body, its high-capacity Customaire heating-ventilating system. You get the biggest windshield and wipers of any low-priced car—with defrosting capacity to match, plus new dual headlamps for maximum safety-visibility. You get advanced Total-Contact brakes, safest-stopping system on any car. And for not a penny extra, you get advanced Torsion-AIRE suspension, best system of all to cushion you over frozen rough spots . . . level you around curves . . . and let you stop without brake-dive.

What about power? It's yours to spare with Plymouth's Thrill-Power Six, or big, new 313-cubic-inch V-8. And nothing beats the ease and responsiveness of Plymouth's proved push-button automatic drive. It's safe. Mechanical. Isn't affected by electrical trouble.

If you'd like all the money-saving reasons why Plymouth's the buy, and why now's the time to get yours, just come see us. We'll show 'em to you—along with the kind of trade-in offer that'll open your eyes.

Brand-new snow-time driving aid! Plymouth's optional Sure-Grip differential gives you extra pull-out traction even when one wheel gets into deep snow, ice, sand or mud! You're always a step ahead in cars of the forward look

Victoria Skaters Score at Nanaimo

NANAIMO — Victoria figure skaters captured one event and ranked among the top three in three other classes here Sunday as Nanaimo staged its first centennial event by hosting the B.C. coast figure skating championships.

Herbert Saville and Maureen Humphries won the veterans' dance competition over defending champions W. H. Moore and Muriel Main of Kerrisdale.

Leonard Simpson and Lorraine Hyne took second place and B. Hubbard and Diedre Humphries finished third in the bronze dance event; Doug Doidge and Marlee Rutley placed second in the silver dance competition, and Peggy Cunning captured third place in the juvenile girls' singles.

Pamela Willman of Vancouver retained her senior singles title while Harry Nevard, also of Vancouver, took the men's singles title for the third successive year.

More than 50 skaters competed in 14 classes for a total of 16 trophies in the all-day competition.

Some types of chameleons, Asion lizards which can protectively change their color, are two feet long.

Grocers Lose Second Game By One Goal

MacNutt's Grocery went down to its second straight one-goal defeat at the hands of Mariners on Sunday, dropping a 2-1 decision in Lower Island Junior and Juvenile Soccer Association Division I play.

Barney Fredrickson and Tom Collett scored for Mariners, who blanked the Grocers by a 1-0 count in their last meeting. Dick Gibson tallied for the losers.

Joe Stebeck scored three goals and Bob Mail and Fred Potts each scored once as powerful Texacos chalked up a 5-0 victory over Langford Buffaloes in a Division match.

Jimmy Butterfield counted twice and Vern DeMelt got one goal as Nanaimo Elks blanked Victoria Optimists, 7-0, in a Division VII exhibition match at Windsor Park.

I was a bundle of nerves

My nerves were that bad the least little thing set me off. I was irritable, tense, easily depressed, and I slept badly. And as if that wasn't enough, I'd get indigestion.

Many people experience unpleasant feelings because their systems are disturbed by ingredients present in everyday beverages. While some people can drink tea, coffee, cocoa and some soft drinks without harm, others cannot.

Postum contains no tannin to interfere with digestion; no caffein, theophylline and theobromine which can cause nervousness, sleeplessness, irritability, palpitations, rapid pulse, followed by depression.

There is no need to endure any of these unpleasant feelings. Switch to Instant Postum which is guaranteed to contain no stimulants or drugs. Postum does not taste or act like ordinary beverages, but has a comforting flavor of its own. Make Postum easily, instantly, right in your cup. Just add freshly boiling water, stir and enjoy.

Try Postum for 30 days. When nerves are soothed, you sleep better, feel better, look better.

Get Instant Postum today. Saves you money. Costs less than 1¢ a cup. A product of General Foods, Limited.

Streaking Canyens Can't Be Stopped; Lead by 16 Points

Rivals who had hopes that the loss, through injuries, of Maurice Richard and Bert Olmstead would leave Montreal Canadiens back to the rest of the National Hockey League have been sadly disappointed.

With Boom Boom Geoffrion hitting top form, Dickie Moore and Henri Richard showing that they can score goals without the elder Richard, and others, such as Claude Provost, helping to take up the slack, Canadiens have jumped into their biggest lead of the season.

Sunday's scores: Montreal 4 at New York 0; Toronto 3 at Detroit 3; Boston 3 at Chicago 1.
Next game—Tomorrow, Toronto at New York.

They won for the sixth straight time Sunday, blanking the second-place Rangers, 4-0, at New York.

It was the fifth straight setback for the Rangers, two of them by Canadiens, who have been easy for the New Yorkers until recently. In fact, Rangers won five and tied one of their first six games against the defending champions this season.

Geoffrion scored his 17th and 18th goals of the season. Moore got his 19th, and Provost his 11th in the first period on Sunday as Canadiens took advantage of penalties to get a 2-0 lead, then wrapped up scoring for the night before the first 20 minutes ended.

Moore's goal put him in front in the individual scoring race. He has 19 goals and 26 assists for 45 points, one more than Henri Richard. Geoffrion also drew an assist on Moore's goal and his 36 points—18 goals and 18 assists—has him fifth in the scoring race.

During their six-game streak, Canadiens have scored 25 goals and allowed but nine. By comparison, the slumping Rangers have scored only nine while conceding 24 in their five-game losing streak.

But while Canadiens have been building an insurmountable lead, trailing clubs have worked their way into the thick of the scrap for the four Stanley Cup playoff berths.

Making the biggest gain were the last-place Chicago Black Hawks, who are, somewhat amazingly, only seven points out of second place although they have scored only 69 goals in 37 games, an average of 1.87 goals a game.

The Hawks, who have won five and tied one of their last seven games, ran their win streak to three games Sunday by edging the Boston Bruins, 4-3, after trailing by 0-1 and 2-3 scores. Ron Murphy was the Chicago hero, scoring the tying and winning goals.

Hawks were two players short for a minute and 52 seconds and one man short for three minutes and 16 seconds during one stretch but fine goaling by Glenn Hall kept the Bruins from tying the score.

In Sunday's other game, Detroit Red Wings handed Toronto Maple Leafs their fourth successive defeat, 3-2.

Gordie Howe, who set up Red Kelly to put Detroit ahead at 13.09 of the second period, scored the winner late in the period after Tod Sloan had pulled Leafs even at 2-2. Howe's two points gave him 41 for the season.

Results left Rangers in second place three points ahead of Boston, which has two games in hand. The Bruins are a point ahead of the Wings, the fifth-place Leafs two points further back and only one point ahead of the pressing Hawks.

Stranahan Cards 275 to Win Year's First Big Golf Meet

Frank Stranahan, former U.S. amateur champion, got off ahead in the battle for top money-winning honors in 1958 yesterday when he won the Los Angeles open golf tournament with a 72-hole total of 275, nine strokes under par.

One stroke behind Gay Brewer, Jr., of Cincinnati, Stranahan had a last-round 67 to finish three strokes ahead of Dutch Harrison. Brewer wound up in third spot. Billy Casper was fourth while Canada's Al Balding and Bo Wininger tied for fifth place with 281s.

Behind them, all at 282, came Art Wall, newcomer Dave Ragan and Tommy Jacobs. Defending-champion Doug Ford, who scored a 280 a year ago, wound up with a 284.

Stranahan pocketed $7,000, his biggest win as a professional. Harrison won $3,750, Brewer got $2,600 and Balding, eighth among the 1957 money-winners, and Wininger each won $1,675.

Lions Report 19 Players Signed; Attendance Drop Leads to Deficit

VANCOUVER (CP)—British Columbia Lions have signed 19 American players to date for the 1958 Western Interprovincial Football Union season, retiring president Bill McMahan told the club's annual directors' meeting Monday night.

He said three quarterback prospects are among them. Only one player was identified. He is Pete Neft formerly of the University of Pittsburgh. There was also a report that said Ed Vereb, all-star halfback in 1956, has been signed.

There is a possibility Toppy Vann, ex-Georgia Tech signal caller, will return for a second season, Mr. McMahan said.

The president's address preceded the election of officers for the WIFU club, which has failed to make the league playoffs since entering in 1954.

Re-elected directors at the meeting, which was attended by 750 members, were Fred Bolton, Alan Eyte, Ralph Henderson, Dick Lane, Mr. McMahan, Dr. Ted Musgrove, Bill Surphlis, Phil Webb, Frank Baker and Harold Merilees. New directors are Dr. Larry Crowley, Reg Hale, Hec MacDonald and Cam McLean.

A new president and executive will be elected Wednesday at a meeting of the directors. Mr. McMahan confirmed his statement of last week that he is resigning.

Of the Lions' $2,672 deficit in 1957 Mr. McMahan said: "This year's attendance was a real disappointment, principally because of the early poor showing of the team."

However, he said loss of revenue in exhibition games also contributed. The Lions played twice in the United States last year against Edmonton, in Portland and San Francisco.

The team does not plan to travel south in 1958 but will play four pre-season games in Canada. Two are scheduled against Big Four clubs in Vancouver and two on the prairies with WIFU opposition.

Another reason for the financial setback was injuries sustained by players, Mr. McMahan reported. A total of $35,000 in additional salaries was directly attributable to these injuries.

WIFU Boss Keeps Mum On Proposal

WINNIPEG (BUP) — S. G. Sydney Halter, commissioner of the Western Interprovincial Football Union, said yesterday he had "no comment" on a proposal that he take over as commissioner for all professional football in Canada.

The plan, suggested by the Big Four League in the East, is to break with the Canadian Rugby Union, which has been the ruling body of football in the country. The proposal will be presented to a meeting of the Canadian Football Council in Winnipeg, Jan. 19.

Ralph Parliament, the newly elected president of the Winnipeg Blue Bombers, said "a move by the Big Four to break with the CRU is in line with discussions held by the WIFU and the Canadian Football Council in Toronto last November."

City Teams Claim Canadian Marks

Two relay teams from the Victoria Y swimming club claimed Canadian short-pool records last night as Archie McKinnon's splashers launched their drive on Dominion marks for 20-yard pool events.

The 160-yard medley team of Alice Genge, backstroke; Sue Morgan, breaststroke; Sally Holland, butterfly and Janie Wheaton, freestyle, swam the event in one minute, 42 seconds to top the old mark of 1.47.5 held by the Vancouver Amateur Swimming Club.

The 100-yard freestyle squad of Pam Genge, Janie Wheaton, Alice Genge and Miss Holland, lowered the Canadian record of one minute and 35 seconds, held by the Hamilton Athletic Club, by four seconds.

McKinnon said last night that both records will be sent to the Canadian association for official recognition.

Fielder in Peak Form; Boasts Amazing Record

Inimitable Babe Pratt is the only player to have won most valuable player honors two seasons in a row in the Western Hockey League, but barring the unforeseen he'll have to move over to share his pedestal with Guyle Fielder at the end of this season.

Apparently at the peak of a tremendous minor league career, Fielder is bidding to break his own professional hockey record of 122 points set last season. And this although he missed the first eight games of the season and started slowly because of the need to regain condition.

Successive weekend games at St. Paul Saturday and Sunday saw the slim Seattle centre put on a sensational performance.

Calgary	35*	13	21	1	97	116	27

Sunday's score: Seattle 6, Saskatoon-St. Paul 0.
Next Games, Tonight—New Westminster at Vancouver, Calgary at Edmonton, Seattle at Winnipeg.

After scoring once and setting up the other four Seattle goals in a 5-7 defeat Saturday, Fielder scored twice and passed for the other four goals Sunday as the Americans squared their series with the Saskatoon-St. Paul Regals with a 6-0 shutout.

Although records are not kept for this statistic, Fielder's performance of figuring in 11 successive goals is believed without parallel in WHL history.

His weekend splurge boosted his point total to 59—12 goals and 47 assists—for the 28 games he has played. With 34 games left for his club he has a good chance of a new record. If he continues to add points at his speed in his first 28 games, he will wind up with 133 for the season.

ACHIEVEMENT LIST

He is almost certain, barring injury, of winning his third WHL scoring title to add to a lengthening list of honors. He was WHL rookie of the year in the 1951-52 season, when he played for New Westminster. He was rookie of the year the next season, which he played for the St. Louis entry in the American Hockey League. He won his first scoring championship at Seattle in the 1953-54 season and last season became the first player to win a second WHL scoring championship. He also won the most valuable player award for the Western Division.

Fielder has now played 424 games in minor professional hockey and has the amazing average of 1.4 points a game—154 goals and 439 assists. And, despite his frail appearance, his record shows he has missed only three league games in the past five seasons.

He has had three chances in the National Hockey League, including a three-game trial with Chicago in the 1950-51 season, when he was playing junior hockey for Lethbridge Native Sons.

OTHER CHANCES

Boston Bruins called him up at the end of the 1953-54 season and he played in two Stanley Cup games. This season, he had a tryout with Detroit Red Wings and during training camp games was given the job as first-string centre between Gordie Howe and Johnny Wilson. Once again, however, he returned to the minor leagues. And, once again, no one can understand why.

Since Fielder returned to the Americans, they have averaged more than four goals a game. Before Fielder, the Seattle club was scoring just over two goals a game and it seemed reasonably certain that it would be the club from the Western division to miss the playdowns.

Returned to the line with Ray Kinasewich and Val Fonteyne which scored 101 goals and had 167 assists last season, Fielder soon had his young flankers moving again. The line so far this season has 56 goals and 84 assists, in a class by itself.

Smith Memorial Trophy

Cougar to Receive New Hockey Award

From now on Victoria Cougars will have their own version of the Lady Byng Trophy.

A new trophy honoring the memory of the late Wally Smith has been donated by Cec Rawlings and Cec Rhodes and will be given at the end of each hockey season to the Cougar judged to have best combined playing ability and sportsmanship during scheduled play. A replica will be given for permanent possession.

Judges this year will be Doug Fletcher; Keith MacKenzie, sports announcer for radio station CKDA; Doug Peden, sports editor of the Victoria Times; Lundy Sanderson, announcer for CJVI, and Jim Tang, sports editor of the Victoria Daily Colonist.

On performances so far this season, the first winner of the Wally Smith Memorial Trophy could be one of four players. Perhaps the standout candidate is Gordie Wilson, smooth centre who is making a fine comeback. Wilson has yet to get a penalty this season and has 12 goals and 10 assists.

STRONG CANDIDATE

Doug Macauley, with 15 goals and nine assists and only three minor penalties, is another strong candidate. So are Gordie Haworth, with nine goals and 14 assists and 12 minutes in penalties, and Blinky Boyce, who has seven goals, 18 assists and only six minutes in penalties.

Meanwhile, the Cougars are intending to make good use of their five-day layoff, hoping to start a drive which will carry them into playoff contention within the next two months.

Manager Colin Kilburn left yesterday for Alberta and intends to have a look at a couple of amateur players who might give the Cougars a lift.

Kilburn will go on to Calgary for the first annual all-star game on Wednesday. He was selected as one of the defencemen for the Western Division team. He will be joined in Calgary by centre Ed Dorohoy, the other Cougar to win all-star rating.

RUGGED WORKOUTS

During the layoff, coach Pat Egan is putting his charges through rigorous workouts at Memorial Arena. The Cougars are now one player over the division limit of 12 but no announcement of the player to be cut will be made until Friday.

Cougars play at Vancouver Friday and host the New Westminster Royals on Saturday and have a balanced schedule of two games a week for the next five weeks.

This Could Be the Year For Favorite Oldtimers

By STEVE SNIDER

NEW YORK (UP) — This could be the year one or more of the four old favorites—Hack Wilson, Max Carey, Ed Roush and Sam Rice—finally makes baseball's hall of fame.

It's equally possible no one will make it, since for the first time in many election by veteran baseball writers there are no clear-cut favorites.

But those four will be on at least one ballot, as they have in nearly every election since World War II, along with added starters Johnny Vander Meer and Burleight Grimes.

Rules for election are rugged, as they should be, and the electors are rigidly discriminating—and that's as it should be, too.

But among the players active in the majors between 1928 and 1952 are these six we think rate a plaque among the immortals at Cooperstown, N.Y., and if 75 per cent of the other electors agree the doors will swing open at last.

Edgar (Sam) Rice, an outfielder for the Senators for 19 seas— is regarded by some as the greatest player who hasn't yet made the hall of fame. His lifetime average was .322 and he produced 2,897 base hits, a total exceeded by only seven other players in the history of the game. And all those seven already are hall of famers.

Ed Roush of Cincinnati had a lifetime average of .323 and strung together four brilliant seasons—1921 through 1924—with marks of .352, .351, .351 and .348.

MASTER THIEF

Max Carey, up for 20 years, stole more bases than any other National Leaguer, led his league 10 times and holds the major league record for successful thefts while with the pirates in 1922. That year he was caught stealing only twice in 53 attempts and proved he was more than just a theft specialist by hitting .329.

For the late Hack Wilson, there have been strong backers but other dissenters who presumably felt rollicking Hack's escapades off the field left something to be desired. But after 27 years, his National League record of 56 homers still stands the test of time and with a .307 lifetime batting average he was better than a green hand at producing baseball even with his lusty home run swing.

The rules stipulate there shall be no automatic selections for no-hitters, perfect games, a .400 season at bat. For that reason, Johnny (double no-hit) Vander Meer received only three votes in the last election in 1956.

But we think there's more stuff to Johnny's credentials than his consecutive no-hitters in 1938 against Boston and Brooklyn, a feat never duplicated in history. He gave the game not only that unique thrill but a lesson in courage when things went wrong later. On his comeback campaigns he had seasons with 16, 18, 15 and 17 victories and he still is devoting his life to the game as a manager in the deep minors.

Burleigh Grimes? He was the last of the legal spitballers and stayed around for 20 seasons—much of the time as a bright star. He had five seasons with 20 or more victories and two more with 19.

There is room on each ballot for 10 names. We're plugging for any or all of these six and no more this time out.

Akinclose Scores Six Goals As Scots Move Up to Second

Bill Ackinclose, first-half scoring champion in the Victoria and District Football League, is making a runaway of the second-half race and is well on his way to becoming one of the highest-scoring centre forwards in city soccer history.

The Canadian Scottish marksman, who led all players in the first half with 23 goals in nine games, has more than half that total in his club's three second-half contests. And in one of those games he was held off the scoresheet.

Ackinclose picked up six goals on Sunday as the Scots routed winless Punjab United, 9-1, at Topaz Avenue Park. He also scored six goals as the Scots opened second-half play with a 6-0 victory, then was blanked in his club's second match.

Ackinclose fired three goals in each half Sunday with Ernie Eastlake, Frank Greely and Neil Standley each scoring once in the second half to complete the rout. George Brown's first-half goal was the only score for Punjabs.

Heaneys also gained a second-place deadlock with the Scots and unbeaten Gorge Hotel by edging out the Canadian Hungarians, 4-3, at Heywood Avenue Park. Goals by Ron Pedersen and Tom Rimmer brought Heaneys from behind late in the second half.

Joe Knaver, Joe Clarkson and Andor Csabi scored for the Hungarians in the first half, while Daryl Burley kept Heaneys in contention with a pair of goals in the first session.

Tillicums, backed by the outstanding netminding of Al Davies, had to work hard for their initial win of the second half. Otto Petrovansky put Kickers ahead but Morris Bunyan tied the score and Charlie Constable scored the winner late in the first half.

Braves Must Pay As World Champs

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Thin, sharp-featured John Quinn, general manager of the Milwaukee Braves, doesn't resemble Santa Claus but he'll probably discover in contract talks that his world baseball champions expect him to act like one.

The Braves' front office expects to mail out 1958 contracts at the end of the week, well before the major league deadline of Jan. 15. With the National League pennant and World Series stowed away, there's little doubt that salary demands will be high. Just about all of the Braves will expect raises, hefty ones in many cases.

"I just don't know what to say," Quinn commented yesterday when asked whether he expected difficulty in signing up his players. "You never can tell until the time comes."

Quinn noted that the club had little trouble signing players after the Braves won the league pennant in 1948, but he admitted the situation was different then.

"We had a flock of veterans who were nearing the end of their careers in 1948," he said. "Now we're dealing with young players on their way up. They're the kind who figure to get pretty good increases."

In this category are Wes Covington and Frank Torre, second-year men who had good season's and Bob Hazle and Don McMahon.

Then there are Hank Aaron, the league's most valuable player; series hero Lew Burdette, Red Schoendienst, Johnny Logan, Eddie Mathews, Bob Buhl and Warren Spahn.

Aaron and Burdette received about $28,000 apiece last season. It's safe to assume Aaron will ask for $40,000 and Burdette $35,000. Spahn, in the $50,000 bracket, was the highest paid Brave last year. Schoendienst made around $40,000. Both, no doubt, will want more.

Improved Headgear May Help To Reduce Football Fatalities

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The American Football Coaches' Association reported Monday 16 football [illegible] died last year of injuries directly attributable to the gridiron—13 of them high school boys.

Five other deaths were listed as indirectly connected with the sport.

The association, which has studied football fatalities since 1931 recommends improved headgear and carefully planned practice schedules as possible remedies.

The report, released by Dr. Floyd R. Eastwood of Los Angeles State College, chairman of a study committee notes the deaths have averaged 17.38 over the last 26 years. There were 17 in 1956.

In addition to the 13 deaths among high school players, two sandlot players died during 1957 and the 16th fatality was in semi-pro football. There were no deaths last year in the college category.

Other findings of the study:

Approximately 54 per cent of the total fatalities occur to players between 16 and 18 years, the greatest number of fatalities (43 per cent) occurred during October.

FATAL FIVE MINUTES

Fatal injuries are most likely to happen the first five minutes a player is in the game. Practice sessions now are claiming more fatal injuries than linemen.

Since 1941, players on the defensive have had more fatal injuries than those on the offensive.

Fatal accidents have resulted from traumatic blows to the head in 72.57 per cent of all injuries.

The association observed the number of fatalities caused by blows to the head have increased 4.5 per cent since 1947 and added:

"It is evident that helmet construction has not kept pace with the speed of the game in 1957. Continuing research is necessary."

The association also suggested a five to 10-minute period of warm-up actively before any body contact, whether in practice or an actual game.

Other recommendations include:

At least six days of fundamentals before the first squad scrimmage of the season.

At least six weeks of preseason practice before the first game.

[illegible] more complete examinations of potential high school and college players with special attention to previous injuries.

Qualified and experienced physicians on the bench at all [illegible] and immediately available during practice.

More power to you

There was a time when I was always out of pocket because of carrying charges. You know how it is. My wife and I would see something we'd like for the home, so I'd buy it the easy way . . . or so I thought. Actually, I always finished up paying more than I had to. But, I smartened up. Know what I do now? I save for the things we want, at Imperial Bank of Canada. While I'm saving, my money earns me interest and, of course, I end up saving more money simply because I buy with cash. If you're one of the smart ones who saves for what he wants, more power to you.

Remember—when you buy on time, you pay interest. When you save at Imperial, we pay you interest.

Clings Nude to Statue

Wendy on a Pedestal

LONDON (AP)—Enough to make a royal sentry blush. There she was without a stitch on, and in gawking distance of Buckingham Palace.

Wendy Smith, 19, celebrated the New Year by stripping off her clothes and posing on a statue just down the road from the royal residence.

The story came out in the tabloid Sunday Pictorial. It carried a picture of Wendy, nude and smiling dreamily, clinging to the statue of a seated youth.

The Pictorial explained she was just trying to keep her reputation as "the naughtiest nice girl in Mayfair."

Some time ago Wendy appeared dancing in a shortie nightie with the son of a nobleman at one of those parties for society's gayer young set.

"People call me naughty because they can't get used to my high spirits," The Pictorial quoted her as saying.

"But somebody must think me nice because I had 10 proposals of marriage on New Year's Eve alone."

The Pictorial dropped in a word of advice for Wendy's mother.

"Your scatterbrain daughter wants launching into 1958 with a good smack."

Constable Lionel Smith said of his daughter Wendy's "joke" that "I'm too disgusted to talk about it." Her mother said, "I don't care any more what Wendy does. This time she has gone too far."

Two Labor Bodies Meet Wednesday

$150,000 Temple

Grand Opening For Gaglardi

KAMLOOPS (CP) — Rev. P. A. Gaglardi, genial British Columbia highways minister, opened his new $150,000 Calvary Temple here Sunday with an impressive guest list and wide-ranging ceremonies.

"Kamloops is for Christ," Mr. Gaglardi told reporters covering the event. "Just watch our dust."

Lieutenant-Governor Frank Ross cut the ribbon to open the impressive new building and Premier W. A. C. Bennett read a portion of the scriptures.

FLOWN IN

Forty guests of honor, including leading B.C. business and professional men, were flown here from Vancouver in a special plane and another 1,200 persons, many from distant parts of the province, were on hand.

The ceremonies began Saturday night and included a barbecue for 600 persons and singing by a choir of 900 children.

Guest of honor was Robert Letourneau of Longview, Tex., founder of one of the world's largest earth-moving equipment firms and an ardent evanglist.

Mr. Gaglardi's congregation belongs to the Pentecostal assemblies of Canada.

Mr. Gaglardi said he managed to build the church with donations of labor and materials. "I never ask for a nickel," he said, "but the money seems to come in somehow."

Besides the 1,000-seat main congregation hall, panelled in knotty pine, there are 60 study rooms, a kitchen, prayer room, baptismal pool, radio broadcasting room, nurseries for infants of church-going mothers, and a cedar-and-mahogany office for Pastor Gaglardi.

'Les Girls' Classic Clowning

By BRUCE LOWTHER

Some classic clowning by England's Kay Kendall and fancy dancing by America's Mitzi Gaynor are the main reasons why "Les Girls" is (are?) something to see.

This musical comedy, which opened at the Royal Theatre yesterday, hasn't much else to recommend it, even though it has music by Cole Porter, choreography by Gene Kelly and Jack Cole, and story by Vera Caspray and John Patrick.

Kelly is a hoofer whose act includes three girls (the other is ex-ballerina Taina Elg) and whose heart is sought by two of them. Guess who he marries?

This weak plot, somewhat tuneless music and a script that is far too long form quite a barrier, but it's overcome by an hilarious drunk scene and dance by Miss Kendall, and a very good dance by Miss Gaynor.

Honore Daumier, the noted French caricaturist who died in 1879, was also a serious painter of considerable fame.

John D. Applauds Macmillan's Plan For No-War Pact

OTTAWA (CP)—Prime Minister Diefenbaker indicated again yesterday he strongly favors reopening of East-West negotiations.

Talking with reporters after a two and one-half-hour cabinet meeting, the prime minister said British Prime Minister Macmillan's proposal for an East-West non-aggression pact represents a "forward-looking view."

Mr. Macmillan, he added, has shown repeatedly a desire to bring about an alleviation of world tensions.

Mr. Diefenbaker said that on the basis of past experience a non-aggression pact might not achieve everything intended but it would bring the major Western nations together in consultation with Russia. This in itself would be of "material advantage."

World reaction to Macmillan's suggestion for an East-West non-aggression pact remained cautious.

Several western countries voiced general support but did not commit themselves strongly to the suggestion. Others, notably the United States, were cool.

The U.S. issued an official "no comment" statement. Two years ago, however, Russia suggested to the U.S. a similar pact and the U.S. rejected it.

India's Prime Minister Nehru, who has been seeking such a move for a long time, greeted it with approval.

At Bonn, West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer said he had received a good impression of Macmillan's idea. But a later report said the West German government has decided to go more slowly in view of the lack of U.S. support.

French officials said there would be no official comment until the suggestion has been discussed in the NATO permanent council.

Alexandra Comes Out

LONDON (UP)—A princess who likes to dance to the music of Louis Armstrong moved into the royal spotlight yesterday as hostess at one of London's gayest parties of the season.

Pretty Princess Alexandra of Kent, was celebrating her 21st birthday—12 days late.

The princess, cousin of Queen Elizabeth, was 21 on Christmas Day, which she spent quietly at Sandringham with the Royal Family.

So last night Princess Alexandra celebrated officially at Kensington Palace, her London home. The Queen, Prince Philip and 200 other guests joined in the fun.

Ash Pleads for End To Parochial Curtains

Tax Rise Hinted

First draft of Saanich's 1958 provisional budget, presented to council last night, shows a tentative increase of 4.12 mills in District 61 and 4.5 mills in District 63. The budget was submitted to finance committee for study.

Reeve Arthur Ash emphasized it was more should be done about the figures because they had to be set before all known revenue and expenditures were considered. The year's regular budget will be considered in May.

Comptroller Treasurer John T. Brownlee's 1958 provisional budget calls for an increase of $477,849 to be raised by taxation or roughly 30 per cent of last year's total of $1,604,651 including school levies.

Explaining the increase in the tax rate of 30 per cent, he said: "A considerable part of this year will be increased due to new building and reassessment program.

Joint Effort Asked

Reciprocal support among Greater Victoria's municipalities for developments benefiting the whole area was called for last night by Saanich Reeve Arthur Ash in his second-term inauguration speech.

He said the municipalities [illegible] to recognize their responsibilities beyond their own boundaries and [illegible] the area [illegible] the whole area in the most beneficial and [illegible] manner in the North American continent.

PARK, HIGHWAY

Among the projects he hoped [illegible] would be [illegible] by [illegible] Victoria and the city [illegible] the McKenzie extension [illegible] the proposed McKenzie Avenue route.

Transit [illegible] and other matters [illegible] should be [illegible] such projects as a new civic [illegible] extension of a [illegible] bus [illegible] the West Saanich Police and a new [illegible] road bridge and [illegible] at another bridge [illegible] the George Head [illegible] approach and [illegible] benefit to our people and [illegible].

A child's birthday—a joy

[illegible]

Have you a New Year for me, Mister?
I have, indeed, this year!
He took it, and all scaled and sealed
And gave me a new one as installed
Then took my tired heart he stirred
And gave me back my child's [illegible]
I think I'll keep that year the desk said I owe them!

And now after the sparkle of the festive season must be with us. I'd like to write the finest budget very carefully during the coming weeks.

So we'd help you all we can with economical meal suggestions today. Now that most young shoppers are back at school we find we've been asked to have lots of ideas on nourishing and [illegible]

As you know dried peas and beans are a good and inexpensive form of protein so some time soon you might try this first suggestion.

BEAN CHOWDER

One pint dried beans 2 pound salt pork diced 2 medium onions diced 1 pint tomatoes 1 teaspoon salt ½ teaspoon pepper 2 tablespoons grated sugar of thickness

Soak beans for several hours in water to cover or preferably overnight.

Bring to a slow simmer and fry gently the pork with the onions until golden brown and pour fat together. Then add with the beans the tomatoes, sugar, salt and pepper. Cover and simmer slowly for 2 hours or until beans are tender. Add boiling water as needed. Add tomatoes and season and simmer for about 30 minutes longer. To give a richer flavor, add a small bay leaf and a few cloves.

Now if you'd like to have some chicken soup but don't have a chicken, why not use a soup bone and make chicken soup from it?

Dior's Last Collection Now Showing in New York

By DOROTHY ROE

NEW YORK (AP) The last collection designed by Christian Dior, one of the great names in the world of fashion, was shown to the press today.

Dior, 52, died suddenly of a heart attack in October while vacationing in Italy.

Some 200 members of the fashion press viewed the final creations of the great French dress maker before his death last fall.

The showing in the ballroom of the Hotel Pierre opened the crowded schedule of spring dress previews with the Easter parade heralds. Dior models are expected for the American mart.

Paris concurs. The straight or fitted sheath, the bloused sheath and the bell silhouette with rounded skirt.

WASHINGTON (AP) — A [illegible] civilian study group says [illegible] forces are out of step with the [illegible] tempo of the missile age and [illegible] need big changes and billions [illegible] more in money.

United States defence spending should be increased about $3,000,000,000 each year for the next several years says a special 21-man panel of the Rockefeller Bros. Fund.

The panel says the Joint Chiefs of Staff chairman and [illegible] should be in a position to [illegible] shape strategic planning" with [illegible] the other members merely advising him, and adds that the [illegible] forces are [illegible] tempo of the missile age and [illegible] need big changes and billions [illegible] more in money.

Summing up findings in a study which began in 1956 the panel says that:

1. Strategy lags behind developments in technology and the U.S. is rapidly losing its lead in the race of military technology. The lag in missiles and space machines reflects [illegible] our national complacency.

2. Strategy as evolved by the [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]

TUESDAY, JAN. 7, 1958

Today's quotation: "How awful to reflect that what people say of us is true."—Logan Pearsall Smith.

Tuesday for everyone: Seek to correct upsets or inequalities by being just, tactful, remaining on center. Steer clear of extravagance, opposition and changes. Recheck judgment.

Look for Your Birthdate and Birthsign Below

March 21 to April 19 (Aries)—Let your finances and resources determine your course now. Take no chances re loved ones, pleasures.

[illegible] and keep things rolling. Square away home, family, basic matters.

May 21 to June 20 (Gemini)—Defer unnecessary trips and visits. Keep relationships on an impersonal basis.

June 21 to July 22 (Cancer)—Keep your eyes upon belongings and values. Developments may prove costly unless you circumvent them.

July 23 to Aug. 22 (Leo)—You make the most headway by being self-sufficient and willing to put duty first.

Aug. 23 to Sept. 22 (Virgo)—Background factors are important. Take these into account in all dealings with others.

Sept. 23 to Oct. 22 (Libra)—Some friend or associate may prove disturbing unless you sidetrack the situation. Be diplomatic.

Oct. 23 to Nov. 21 (Scorpio)—Dealings with those at the top may require patience, tact. Scan all angles of moves before going ahead.

Nov. 22 to Dec. 21 (Sagittarius)—Contrast and compare, strive for an equal division of efforts now. Be neither too reticent or proud.

Dec. 22 to Jan. 19 (Capricorn)—Be prepared to make swift adjustments in line with circumstances and necessities; take no chances.

Jan. 20 to Feb. 18 (Aquarius)—See that your rights are not infringed but otherwise be your usual self. Expect little co-operation.

Boys to Join Navy On Far East Trip

Nine teen-age B.C. members of the Royal Canadian Navy Sea Cadet Corps, including three from Vancouver Island, will sail this month on an 11-week cruise to the Far East.

The boys, selected for their proficiency, will leave Jan. 16 aboard four destroyers of the 2nd Canadian Escort Squadron of the RCN and return about April 2.

LC Michael G. Roberts, "Rainbow" Corps, Victoria; PO George A. Smith, "Alberni" Corps, Port Alberni, and LC Marvil Schlitz, "Amphion" Corps, Nanaimo, are the Island cadets chosen.

The destroyers Crescent, Cayuga, Fraser and Margaree will make the trip, calling at Hong Kong and Japanese points.

There is room for 25 new boys in the Navy League Cadet Corps.

Boys between 12 and 14 years of age and boys who will be 12 before June are eligible to join. They should report to Sea Cadet headquarters at the foot of Robert Street by 7 p.m. Wednesday for enrolment.

Cadets will report for their first centennial year parade at the same time under Lieut. J. G. Napper, newly appointed commanding officer.

There are also openings for volunteer instructors in gunnery, signals and boatwork. Application should be made by phoning 4-8442 or writing to Lieut. Napper.

Pays His Way

Appointed pay and accounts officer of 2455 Aircraft Control and Warning Squadron, RCAF. (Auxiliary), is FO J. S. English, 42-1835 Feltham Road. A chartered accountant employed with the B.C. Power Commission, FO English served overseas with 684 Squadron, Royal Air Force, in England, and later flew with a photo reconnaissance squadron in Burma during the Second World War.

Tenor to Audition Again This Month

Victoria tenor Michael Rogers will try again after missing first place in the Metropolitan Opera audition finals in Seattle Sunday.

The 27-year-old tenor, who was among nine also-rans, will enter San Francisco Opera Company auditions in Spokane late this month.

Tenor Andras Mata, 23, of Saseenos, said yesterday he did not expect to attend the Spokane competition.

A Portland soprano was chosen for further competition.

U.S. Navy May Pick U.K. Plane

WASHINGTON (Reuters)—The United States Navy confirmed yesterday that the giant British flying boat, the Princess, built by Saunders Roe, is among the machines being considered as suitable for the first nuclear-powered aircraft.

The 10-engined Princess is in reserve at present.

Asked to comment on reports that the navy has proposed that a flying boat become the first U.S. nuclear aircraft, a navy spokesman said: "The navy has plans for a nuclear-powered turbo-prop seaplane and has offered its estimates of what acceleration to this program would be feasible if it became desirable to initiate an accelerated nuclear-powered flight program.

"Among other aircraft the British Princess is being considered."

Trades Department Formed

Building Unions League Together

Formation of an AFL-CIO Building Trades Department region in the four western provinces was welcomed yesterday by James Moffat, president of the Vancouver Island Building Trades Council.

"For some time we have been agitating to have a building trades department right in Canada," said Mr. Moffat, whose council represents about 23 locals of building trades unions on the Island.

Ed Kennedy, who has been secretary of the Vancouver Building Trades Council, will head the western BTD region, co-ordinating the organizing activities of 19 building unions.

He has gone to Washington to study his new task.

In Canada, although the dispute never broke into the open, the Canadian Labor Congress was aiming for a building trades' section which would be directly under CLC control. It has now lost the fight.

The BTD has also created a region in Eastern Canada and five similar regions in the United States.

Connection of the Canadian regions to the AFL-CIO Building Trades Department gives them more strength in dealing with jurisdictional disputes than if connected only to the CLC, Mr. Moffat said.

Youth Sought

Telephone Ripped From Wall

Police believe a leather-jacketed youth is responsible for ripping a telephone from a Shelbourne Street booth and stealing the cash it contained.

Victor Sage 3081 Shelbourne, told police he chased a youth in a leather jacket after seeing him tearing at the telephone in a booth at 3093 Shelbourne around 11 a.m. Sunday. The youth escaped.

Last week four telephones were ripped from booths outside the city's business section.

Industrial Bank Increases Loans

OTTAWA (CP)—The Crown-owned Industrial Development Bank Monday reported a sharp increase in the number of industrial loans it issued in the 12 months ended Sept. 30.

Nearly all the rise occurred in the Atlantic region and Western Canada, bank president James E. Coyne said in the annual report tabled in the Commons. Mr. Coyne also is governor of the Bank of Canada.

Purpose of the industrial development bank is to supplement the activities of other lending firms, especially in helping to finance small enterprises.

'This Isn't Thin Edge'

The Jaycee amalgamation study petition is not the "thin edge of the wedge of amalgamation," campaign chairman Eric Charman said yesterday.

"Some people in Oak Bay are trying to destroy our efforts by saying this is the thin edge of the wedge of amalgamation," said Mr. Charman. "That isn't true."

More Science In Schools

More intensive courses in science and mathematics are needed in Canada's high schools, says Edward Argyle, technical official at the Dominion Astrophysical Observatory in Saanich.

"The time has come when to be educated means to have a knowledge of science as well as the classical subjects," he said.

He suggested the entire present high school science and mathematics courses might be condensed into the first two years of high school and made compulsory for all students.

Sir Winston Writes

Money Rolls In After Retirement

LONDON (NANA)—Sir Winston Churchill has made more money in the 2½ years since he retired from public life than he did in his 55 years of service to his country.

[illegible] is the answer. The exhibit of 35 Churchill paintings, scheduled to start a four-month tour of the U.S. and Canada on Jan. 22 in Kansas City, represents only a hobby for Sir Winston, a means of relaxing from his writing chores as painting once eased the cares of public office.

Today, he makes an estimated $229,600 a year from writing. This compares to the $490,000 total he earned in 55 years as statesman and politician.

EARNED $3,000,000

Since Sir Winston concentrated on writing at the end of the Second World War, his total earnings have been an estimated $3,000,000. Much of this came from his monumental "History of the Second World War," for which Life Magazine in the U.S. alone paid him $700,000 for serial rights.

His current work, "The History of the English-Speaking Peoples," has been a spectacular success, recently boomed when Volume III was named a March 1958 Book-of-the-Month Club selection. Initial printings of each volume have been 150,000 copies, but each has gone into a second printing.

How does the great man feel about all this?

'INCIDENTAL'

"I have little interest in or need for money," he shrugs. The 83-year-old warrior sinks most of his royalty fortune into a trust fund for his grandchildren. "Incidental money," such as the $750,000 well-wishers donated to mark his 80th birthday, is given to charity.

Sir Winston's only major expense is the cost of establishing Chartwell, his country home in Kent, as a museum to contain documents and other historical paraphernalia of his long life.

PACKS BRUSHES

Although others aid in research, Sir Winston does all his own writing. He relaxes by packing his brushes and easel and heading for the south coast of France.

Even then, money follows him. Although he regards painting as a hobby, people offer him thousands of dollars for his most casual landscapes.

New Lights Along Bay Set Soon

Installation of synchronized traffic signals at all major intersections along Bay is proceeding more slowly than at first hoped, but is likely to be complete by mid-January, assistant city engineer Norman Worsley said yesterday.

When the signal system is in operation, making Bay a main east-west thoroughfare in conjunction with the new Point Ellice bridge, a new traffic check will be started at Fountain Circle to determine if and how conditions there have changed.

Results of the new check could affect city council's plans for a $30,000 rebuilding of the Fountain Circle intersection.
